

Taking on your new Industry 4.0 Higher Apprentices

Need a new breed of talent to take your business into the future? Talk to us about Higher Apprentices and discover how this game changing program can provide your workplace with workers who have a unique combination of skills and technical knowledge.

What's involved?

The new Industry 4.0 Higher Apprenticeships combine the best of vocational and university learning by training future technicians to meet the needs of an evolving workplace by developing comprehensive practical skills with a stronger focus on technology.

These Higher Apprentices are based at your workplace in a model similar to a traditional apprenticeship. However, they have a balanced ratio of work to study, and undertake a new Diploma and Associate Degree in Applied Technologies which covers a range of disciplines including the Internet of Things, IT Disruptive Technologies, Engineering, Design and Business.

Components of the Diploma and Associate Degree include:

- Working in Industry 4.0
- Engineering skills for Industry 4.0
- CAD/CAM and engineering materials
- Industrial networking and cloud computing
- Electrical systems
- Object oriented programming
- Industrial control systems
- Digital control systems
- Cyber physical system integration
